DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114 was filed in this application after appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, but prior to a decision on the appeal. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114 and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the appeal has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114 and prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 3/27/03 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 2, 19-24, 28, 29 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wyatt.

Wyatt discloses a soft-sided, insulated container comprising first and second insulated container portions 72 that define first and second chambers 82, 84. The first and second insulated chambers are located side-by-side and segregated by an insulated common wall 80. The insulated container portions include an insulated wall structure 74 that is a closure flap and is moveable to close the first and second openings to the first and second chambers. The first chamber 82 has a fluid container 20 for holding liquids and is releasably attached to the insulated container portion via aperture 86 in the insulated wall structure forming the closure flap 74.

Since Wyatt discloses the insulated container portions being comprised of thermally insulated fabric, the first and second insulated portions of Wyatt are inherently capable of being collapsed. Moreover, due to the inherent collapsibility of the first container portion in Wyatt, the first container portion is also inherently capable of being secured in a collapsed position relative to the common wall.

Furthermore, since Wyatt discloses the insulated container portions that define the first and second chambers as thermally insulated fabric and the common wall as a thermally insulated fabric, the first chamber of Wyatt is inherently capable of maintaining a different environmental condition from the second chamber.

Regarding claim 2, the fluid container 20 of Wyatt meets the claimed structure of applicant's "liner".

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 4, 25-27, 30-33 and 35-44 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 2, 4 and 19-44 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
